Content Sharing Guidelines

Social Media Best Practices

Organic Posts

- Aim to use 3-5 hashtags per post
- Consider the time and day that you post

Growing your followers

- Find people who share your company's values/interests.
- Comment, like, and share their posts. Follow them, or add them as friends

Communication

- Address questions or concerns in comments or Direct Messages the same day.

Sharing Other People's Content

Let's use Twitter to find content to share.

Activity: Content Sharing

Complete the exercise on page 7 of your workbook with a neighbor:

1. Log onto a social media platform that your target customer uses.
2. Search for hashtags relevant to your business
3. Find one non-promotional post from another brand, organization, or publisher that you think would provide value to your followers
  - a. Why is the post relevant to your followers?
  - b. What value does the post provide to your followers?
  - c. Write a short sentence to use when sharing the post
  - d. Which hashtags would you use when sharing the post?

Sharing Your Own Content

- Aim to do drive traffic to your website about 20% of the time.
- Tease content using a short snippet or intriguing headline—don't give it all away.
- For platforms that don't allow you to link out (like Instagram) say “link in bio”.

Repurpose Example: River Pools

Links to River Pool's blog

The example illustrates:

- Non-promotional content
- Link that drives to the company's website
- Video matches company's brand

Repurpose Example: Archestratus

They tell their followers to click the “link in bio”, which takes them to the RSVP page on their website.

The example illustrates:

- Non-promotional content
- Link that drives to the company’s website
- Image matches company’s brand

Repurpose Example: BuzzFeed

Activity: Social Media Analysis

Follow these steps to evaluate repurposed social media content:

1. Pair up with a neighbor.
2. Log onto a social media platform that your target customer uses.
3. Find an example of a brand that is repurposing content. Make sure the content includes a link/URL.
4. Is the content “helpful, friendly, and engaging” based on your target customer? Describe why it is, or is not, effective.
5. Determine the page or website that the link/URL leads to.
6. What is the Call to Action (CTA) on the landing page? Is it effective?
7. How well do the content and design of the CTA and the landing page align?
8. Discuss with your neighbor.

Social Media Management Tools

Social Media Management tool might be helpful if:

- You are on three or more social media platforms
- Post one or more times per day
